Description

The Department of Justice defines domestic terrorism as, “Violent, criminal acts committed by individuals and/or groups to further ideological goals stemming from domestic influences, such as those of a political, religious, social, racial, or environmental nature.”

1. Students will identify the distinct characteristics of domestic extremists’ groups.
2. Discuss and review ideologies related to predominant domestic violent extremists’ groups or movements.
3. Review common tactics and recruitment methods.

The tuition free presentations are restricted to California public safety personnel. The course is designed for 9-1-1 and field first responders.

No shows will not be eligible to enroll in future tuition free courses.
