In this 90 minute training, we will discuss new employer obligations required under AB 1484, including the duty to provide information to temporary employees and labor organizations, and how to handle a request to add temporary employees to existing bargaining units. We will discuss who does and does not qualify as a temporary employee under the new law, as well as subjects of bargaining unique to temporary employees, best practices to avoid employer pitfalls and unfair practice charges, and the importance of establishing and enforcing employment limits on temporary employees.

Who Should Attend:

Management staff at public agencies, including chief administrative officers, department and division heads, and human resource professionals.

Duration:

10:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

MCLE:

Liebert Cassidy Whitmore is an approved MCLE provider. Participating attorneys are eligible for 1.5 hours of MCLE. The person from your agency that registers for this webinar will receive the official set of MCLE forms. In order to receive your MCLE credit, you will need to complete and return these forms that will be available at the workshop.

Please note that one registration equals one connection to the webinar. Links cannot be shared.
