... and it's easy!

How it works

1. A community-based organization will issue a code to a pre-approved community member in need.
2. The food generator with unsold food will post the meal on the EatWell app.
3. A community member receives the notification when food is available.
4. The community member will then claim the food through the app and collect it within a specified time frame.

California Senate Bill 1383 requires food generators (e.g. stores, restaurants and cafeterias) of a certain size to procure edible food that would otherwise be disposed. EatWell helps solve donation timing, logistics, storage challenges and transportation of perishable items.
